

I Love You (Enough To Set You Free) (Temika Moore ©2002 Pink Panna Music Publishing /ASCAP)

Verse: I've loved you all my life it seems
Well, I find I'm a different person now
With different needs
Times have changed,
And I realize I given more than I've gained

Life's funny that way,
I guess you get what you allow
But this I say...

Chorus: I love you enough, to set you free
I love you enough to set you free

Verse: I thought if I gave you what you needed
I'd get that in return
I was foolish to give you a love you didn't earn

Why didn't you cherish me?
Like a man honors a queen
So I must set you free

Chorus: I love you enough to set you free
I love you enough to set you free
I love you enough to set you free

Bridge: I can't deny, that I'll feel pain
But in time, I know I'll be okay
Your spirit didn't breathe life
But I loved you in spite
You weren't ready for love
The way God intended it to be
So, I must love you enough to set you free...

Chorus: I love you enough to set you free
I love you enough to set you free
I love you enough to set you free
Cause you're not the right one for me
